PERGAMON

History of European Ideas 27 (2001) III–IV

History of European Ideas

www.elsevier.com/locate/histeuroideas

LIST OF CONTENTS

Number 1

Peter Ghosh 1 Gramscian hegemony: an absolutely historicist approach

Paul Schuurman 45 Locke's way of ideas as context for his theory of education in Of the Conduct of the Understanding

David Boucher 61 British Idealism and the Human Rights Culture

Alan Macfarlane 79 David Hume and the political economy of agrarian civilization

93 Book reviews

Number 2

97 Editorial

Duncan Forbes 101 Aesthetic thoughts on doing the history of ideas

Rachel Hammersley 115 Camille Desmoulins's Le Vieux Cordelier: a link between English and French republicanism

Eve Grace 133 The restlessness of "being:" Rousseau's protean sentiment of existence

B Kapossy 153 The sociable patriot: Isaak Iselin's protestant reading of Jean-Jacques Rousseau

Norman Vance 171 No pope here? The catholics of Ulster: a history

181 Book reviews

Number 3

Brook Montgomery Blair 199 Post-metaphysical and radical humanist thought in the writings of Machiavelli and Nietzsche

Ari Helo 239 The historicity of morality: necessity and necessary agents in the ethics of Lord Kames

Jasper Reid 257 Thomas Daniel: an unknown philosopher of the mid-eighteenth century

Margaret Hayward 273 The myth of Balzac's mysticism: his father's mesmerist ideals

Raia Prokhovnik 289 Spinoza's Conception of Sovereignty

Dale Jacquette 307 Fin de siècle Austrian thought and the rise of scientific philosophy

317 Book reviews

Number 4

Pascal O'Gorman 333 Cantor's paradise: a Wittgensteinian fall or mathematics regained?

Robert Mayhew 349 Geography, print culture and the Renaissance: "The road less travelled by"

G.K. Peatling 371 "Continental crossings": European influences on British public opinion and Irish politics, 1848–2002

Henry McDonald 389 Theory's imaginary: the imperative of language

425 Book reviews